PART C — MODULE 1 ANSWER KEY + EXPLANATIONS

RW2-M1-001 — Correct: welcoming — Explanation: The text says Belpré’s storytelling helped families feel included in the library, so “welcoming” is the most precise choice.

RW2-M1-002 — Correct: Blackwater rivers can appear muddy even though their dark color often comes from dissolved plant material. — Explanation: The passage explains that blackwater rivers may look muddy but usually get their color from dissolved organic matter.

RW2-M1-003 — Correct: The number of reusable containers was highest on Thursday. — Explanation: Thursday’s value, 48, is greater than the values for Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

RW2-M1-004 — Correct: She becomes more interested in the garden after taking part in planting. — Explanation: Nia first only nods politely, but after planting beans, she checks the garden before going inside.

RW2-M1-005 — Correct: It explains what the sea monster drawings could represent on some maps. — Explanation: The quoted sentence explains that the drawings often marked danger or unfamiliar places rather than actual sightings.

RW2-M1-006 — Correct: Similarly, — Explanation: The second sentence adds another example of teachers using the outdoor classroom, so “Similarly” is logical.

RW2-M1-007 — Correct: includes — Explanation: The singular subject “Neither” requires the singular verb “includes.”

RW2-M1-008 — Correct: an — Explanation: “Author” begins with a vowel sound, so the article “an” is correct.

RW2-M1-009 — Correct: they — Explanation: The subject pronoun “they” correctly refers to the hikers as the ones who began the trail.

RW2-M1-010 — Correct: Mary Golda Ross, a Cherokee engineer and mathematician, worked on twentieth-century aerospace projects. — Explanation: This choice introduces Ross and identifies her field of work.

RW2-M1-011 — Correct: In addition, — Explanation: The second sentence adds more features of the bus shelter.

RW2-M1-012 — Correct: where it is now. — Explanation: Sentence 3 logically follows sentence 2 by continuing to describe kinds and formats of newsletters before the concluding benefit.

RW2-M1-013 — Correct: took — Explanation: “Yesterday” requires the past-tense verb “took.”

RW2-M1-015 — Correct: picnic because thunderstorms — Explanation: “Because” correctly introduces the reason the picnic was postponed without unnecessary punctuation.

RW2-M1-016 — Correct: identify — Explanation: The researchers compare routes to find patterns, so “identify” is most precise.

RW2-M1-017 — Correct: Peer mediation programs can help students resolve conflicts while building useful communication skills. — Explanation: The text explains that trained mediators guide classmates toward solutions and practice listening, cooperation, and problem-solving.

RW2-M1-018 — Correct: It helps them blend into their surroundings. — Explanation: The text says the foxes’ coats match snow in winter and rocks and plants in summer.

RW2-M1-019 — Correct: The school added a makerspace where students can build models, repair devices, and test inventions. — Explanation: This choice combines the ideas clearly and avoids a comma splice.

RW2-M1-020 — Correct: Because US flight schools would not admit her, Bessie Coleman had to train in France to earn a pilot’s license. — Explanation: This choice emphasizes the obstacle Coleman faced and how she responded to it.

RW2-M1-021 — Correct: Jin read the greatest number of pages. — Explanation: Jin read 91 pages, more than Amina, Carlos, or Priya.

RW2-M1-022 — Correct: To give examples of ways music students contributed to the community — Explanation: The sentence describes students performing at a senior center and teaching younger students.

RW2-M1-023 — Correct: which — Explanation: “Which” correctly begins the nonessential clause set off by commas.

RW2-M1-024 — Correct: to build — Explanation: The phrase completes the parallel structure: “how to choose,” “how to store,” and “to build.”

RW2-M1-025 — Correct: specific — Explanation: The examples about stride and shoulders show that the coach gave detailed, precise advice.

RW2-M1-026 — Correct: Local history museums help communities preserve and understand stories about the places where they live. — Explanation: This sentence clearly introduces the essay’s broad focus on why local history museums matter.

RW2-M1-027 — Correct: As a result, — Explanation: More bee and butterfly visits are presented as an effect of planting native flowers.

PART D — MODULE 2 ANSWER KEY + EXPLANATIONS
